

MARRIOTT STRIKE BULLETIN

Day 23: Tue. 10/30/18

Financial Difficulties? We are entering Week 4 of the strike and know that finances are getting tight. First step is to reach out directly to your financial institutions, landlord, etc. Many are willing to grant hardship waivers that don't affect your credit. Some Kyo-ya strikers have already secured waivers. This is the MOST important step. If you still have difficulties, then visit a free financial advisor at Strike HQ, Tuesday 10/30 from 1p-5p OR at the Hotel and Travel FCU, Thursday from 12p-4p.

In it to win it! Today is Day 23 of the strike—officially longer than the 1990 strike! Local 5 members at the Kyo-ya/Marriott striking properties are clearly motivated to continue this fight.

“Why would we go back now? We are powerful. I've sacrificed too much to go back in without winning the main things! We deserve it all—the wage increases, better workload, job protection, and a four year contract so we can fight along with our sisters and brothers on the mainland,” Lourdes Maquera, housekeeper, Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

“The most important word in the language of the working class is solidarity.” —Harry Bridges

Sign up to receive updates via text:

Text LOCAL 5 to 877-877

Questions? Call/text Paola: 333-4782

Are you on Facebook, Instagram, or Twitter?

Let Marriott & the community know why you're on strike

Use hashtags: #1job #MarriottStrike

unitehere5.org

@uniteherehawaii

@uniteherehawaii

@uniteherehawaii

MARRIOTT STRIKE BULLETIN

Day 23: Tue. 10/30/18

Financial Difficulties? We are entering Week 4 of the strike and know that finances are getting tight. First step is to reach out directly to your financial institutions, landlord, etc. Many are willing to grant hardship waivers that don't affect your credit. Some Kyo-ya strikers have already secured waivers. This is the MOST important step. If you still have difficulties, then visit a free financial advisor at Strike HQ, Tuesday 10/30 from 1p-5p OR at the Hotel and Travel FCU, Thursday from 12p-4p.

In it to win it! Today is Day 23 of the strike—officially longer than the 1990 strike! Local 5 members at the Kyo-ya/Marriott striking properties are clearly motivated to continue this fight.

“Why would we go back now? We are powerful. I've sacrificed too much to go back in without winning the main things! We deserve it all—the wage increases, better workload, job protection, and a four year contract so we can fight along with our sisters and brothers on the mainland,” Lourdes Maquera, housekeeper, Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

“The most important word in the language of the working class is solidarity.” —Harry Bridges

Sign up to receive updates via text:

Text LOCAL 5 to 877-877

Questions? Call/text Paola: 333-4782

Are you on Facebook, Instagram, or Twitter?

Let Marriott & the community know why you're on strike

Use hashtags: #1job #MarriottStrike

unitehere5.org

@uniteherehawaii

@uniteherehawaii

@uniteherehawaii

Our strike is raising a generation of new union leaders!

We picketed Rumfire's Halloween party hosted by a manager who openly mocked striking workers.

Community supporters, guests, and Local 5 members are donating to us every day. Thanks Nestor for the pansit!

Sheraton Princess Kaiulani

Sheraton Waikiki

Sheraton Maui

Royal Hawaiian

Moana Surfrider

Our strike is raising a generation of new union leaders!

We picketed Rumfire's Halloween party hosted by a manager who openly mocked striking workers.

Community supporters, guests, and Local 5 members are donating to us every day. Thanks Nestor for the pansit!

Sheraton Princess Kaiulani

Sheraton Waikiki

Sheraton Maui

Royal Hawaiian

Moana Surfrider